The Power of Fleet Wraps

Orlando businesses typically use more than a single vehicle to perform deliveries, errands, and other day-to-day work functions. These include semi-trucks and trailers for over-the-road transport, personal vehicles for executives, work trucks and trailers that visit job sites, motorcycles, box trucks for in-town deliveries, and other company cars. Some even go as far as using boats, golf carts, jeeps, and lawnmowers to advertise the brand.

Although vinyl vehicle wraps extend your reach, these outdoor signs contribute to your branding strategy as well since it influences the customer's perception of your business. Let's say your company delivers a parcel to a customer and you show up at their house in complete uniform with a branded company vehicle. From the very moment the customer sees all these, he or she will instantly become more trusting that your company representatives are affiliated with the brand. As an effect, customers will treat your employees more respectfully. Also, there's a higher chance that they'll remember your brand and even give a stellar review.

Fleet Wraps That Fit Your Budget

Although a full vehicle wrap is an optimum choice to deliver your message and expand your reach, it's not always the right option for every budget and business need. As your reliable Orlando sign company, we offer several options for customizing your vehicle wraps that meet your requirements. Our fleet wrap specialists can thoroughly explain the pros and cons of getting full vehicle wraps, partial vehicle wraps, vinyl graphics, and vinyl letterings.

Complete Vehicle Wraps

A full vehicle wrap provides total coverage of the exterior of your cars such as the door panels, handles, mirrors, hood, and bumpers. With this, you can create a truly impactful mobile advertisement that gets the attention of the public everywhere you go. Orlando Signs And Graphics ensures that your brand is easily recognizable, and your overall message is clearly understood even with only a glance.

Our Orlando design experts are ready to create stunning vehicle wraps that incorporate your brand elements and other important messages that you want to relay. We work hard to customize your design that suits and complements whatever vehicle type you have. Aside from its marketing advantages, investing in full wraps also provides a protective layer to your company-owned vehicles. Professionally made and installed wraps protect the original paint job of your car from harsh weather conditions as well as wear and tear. This also allows you to retain a higher resale value for your car if needed and to save money from having it repainted.

Partial Ad Wraps

A partial wrap is a great option for businesses that don't need the coverage of a full wrap or don't have the budget for it. This type of fleet wrap can still accomplish your marketing and business goals. A partial vinyl fleet wrap is applied to one specific area of your vehicles such as door panels, tailgate, hood, or back portion.

Similar to full wraps, Orlando Signs And Graphics provides professional design services to partial wraps. Our local Orlando team can guide you through different design and signage elements needed for your specific vehicle such as how much coverage is needed to create a more impactful message and how to maximize your ad while making sure that it still fits your budget.

Vinyl Vehicle Graphics

Vinyl graphics and vinyl lettering signs are the best options if you have budget constraints or if you prefer smaller decals to showcase basic information about your brand. Even though individual cut vinyl graphics are the most economical option, these are still effective in personalizing your company cars. As your trusted Orlando sign company, we can present to you the best design specifications to maximize the effectivity of your vinyl vehicle graphics and letterings.

Vehicle Magnets

If you use work vehicles outside work, live in ad-restricted neighborhoods, or work for multiple firms, then removable vehicle magnets are the best option for you. Although vehicle magnets are not as seamless compared to wraps and decals, these are still a great choice because they're inexpensive and highly customizable. Our local Orlando team can help you choose the right shape, size, color, image, and text for your vehicle magnets that represent your brand the best.
